Ike endorses his old veep

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, breaking his rule of staying out of intraparty fights because "the issues are so great" this year, Thursday endorsed Richard M. Nixon, his vice president for eight years, for the Republican Presidential nomination.

The 77-year-old general, the only recent Republican elected President, threw his prestige behind Nixon at a hospital news conference one month after he suffered a major heart attack.

Nixon, visiting the nation's capital, called Ike's support "a big lift" in his battle with Nelson A. Rockefeller for the GOP nomination. He said it would help him win not only the nomination but the election this fall.

Looking thinner in a blue robe but still able to muster the famous Eisenhower grin, the former president dealt bluntly with speculation over the years that he never really liked the man who was his second in command 1952 to 1960.

"Frankly," he said, with his wife Mamie sitting at his side, "many people have mistakenly thought that I never liked or supported or really believed in Nixon. This is a mere misapprehension."

But, he added, by speaking out at this time, "I just want

Democrats may move to Florida

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. said Thursday that the Democratic national convention would be moved to Miami Beach if the telephone strike in Chicago is not settled by this morning.

NBC said John Bailey, Democratic national chairman, called the City Council in Miami to inform them of the party's decision.

However, in Chicago, Martin Hansen, Bailey's director of public affairs, said NBC was "misinformed."

Hansen said Bailey would stand on the comment he made earlier Thursday: "We're waiting to see what the rest of this week brings."

Both plans more than $1 million

Two county building plans revealed

By ELLIOT BROWN
Pocono Record Reporter

STROUDSBURG — Two plans for relieving the critical space problem at the Monroe County Courthouse, each of which would cost more than $1 million, were presented to the Monroe County Commissioners

Thursday by Barry J. Tretheway and Associates, architects.

Tretheway was working in association with the commissioner's Space Analysis Committee, who also presented their report at the meeting. Although the reports submitted completed the work of the committee, the commissioners decided not to discharge them yet.

The plans presented to the commissioners called for either a total relocation of the Monroe County Courthouse and associated facilities at a site south of Ann St. between the existing post office and South Eighth St., or construction of an annex to the present courthouse in an area bounded by Sarah, Monroe, Sixth and Seventh St.

Tretheway said he recommended the total relocation plan, at a cost estimated at $1,207,701 after sale of the present courthouse. In the report submitted by the committee, with eight out of ten members voting, five supported the plan for remaining at the present location at an estimated cost of $1,189,895, and the other three agreed with Tretheway.

The basic concept of the two proposed site schemes, according to Tretheway's report, is to create a "Civic Center," the basic components of which would be the county governmental functions, the library, the jail, and any other public use structure which may be created in the future.

The concept of the plan to annex the courthouse is in line with Candeb, Cabot and Associates Developer's plan to provide a "buffer zone" between the Central Business District and the Hill Residential Neighborhood.

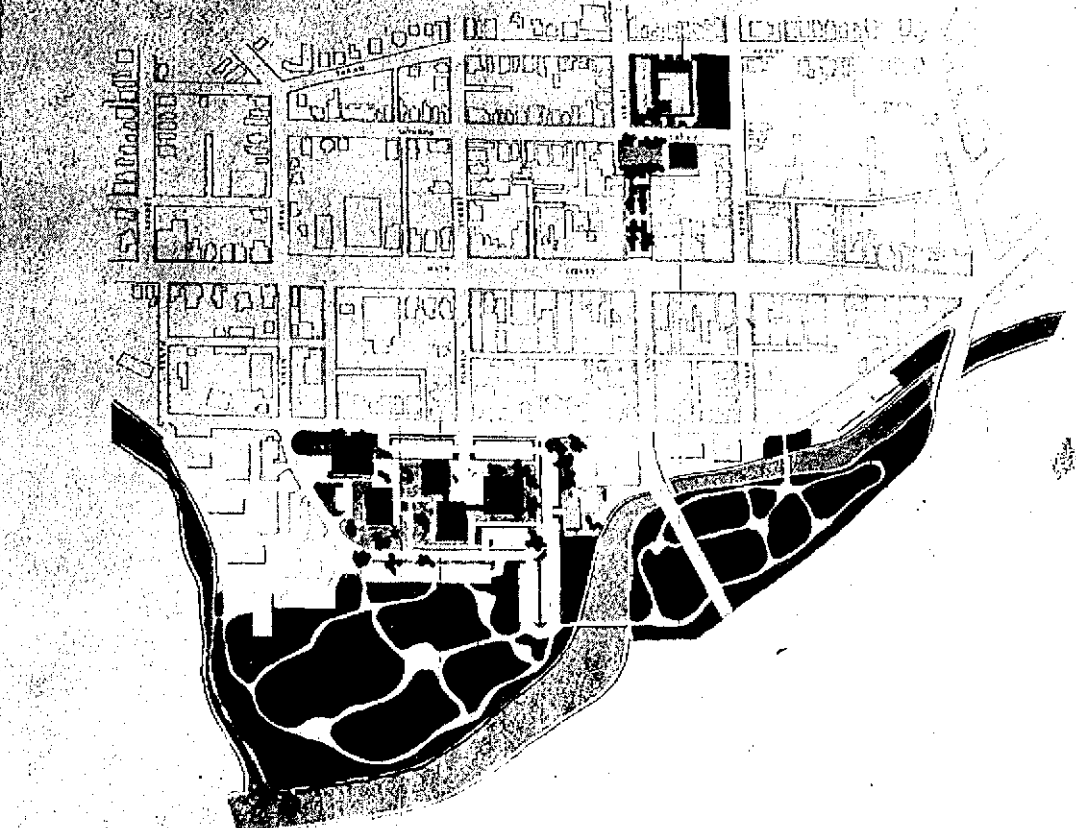

The plan of the second site is to incorporate a new Civic Center with a county park and a Borough Urban Renewal project.

According to the report, the second scheme is "all encompassing in scope and is the one which should receive the greatest consideration. Among the reasons given were:

— The buffer zone concept is not as valid as when originally planned because the north side and portions of the south side of Sarah St. have recently been proposed as a limited commercial zone. Also, the topography of the land is sufficient to create a buffer.

— Available land for commercial development is at a premium in the borough, making the land too valuable commercially to be used as a public area.

— The Ann St. scheme will

False alarm tragedy

NEW YORK (AP) — A 19-year-old sailor was held Thursday on a charge of turning in a false fire alarm and officials said it delayed firemen from reaching a real blaze in which 11 persons perished.

Penny Coon, a medical corpsman attached to St. Albans Naval Hospital, was held in $1,100 bail. He was charged with public intoxication as well as turning in a false alarm.

Nine children and two adults, all Negro, were killed in the fire that was discovered a few minutes after the false alarm was turned in at 1:10 a.m. seven block away.

"If it had not been for the false alarm, many if not all of these fatalities might have been avoided," said Fire Chief John O'Hagan.

Mayor John V. Lindsay termed it "a tragedy of the most grievous dimensions," and said the false alarm caused a three-to-four-minute delay "that meant the difference between life and death."

The fire apparently started in the kitchen and roared up the stairwell of the two-story stucco house on a residential street in the St. Albans section of Queens.

Firemen, who quickly controlled the blaze once they arrived, found seven bodies on the second floor and four in the attic.

Two adults and two children escaped. The children were thrown from a second story porch into the arms of neighbors Charles Short, 24, and Navy Fireman Robert Grier Jr., 22, on leave from Vietnam.

Short had been watching television when he heard the flames. He and Grier tried to kick in the doors, but were driven back by smoke and heat. Another neighbor, Audrey Stewart, had run to a nearby fire box to turn in the alarm.

LBJ tells Vietnam's Thieu U.S. will defeat aggression

HONOLULU (AP) — President Johnson and President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam met at a mid-Pacific summit Thursday and Johnson gave his guest a pledge "to help your people defeat aggression" and to stand firm against all obstacles and deceptions.

Johnson flew in nonstop from Austin, Tex., and Thieu from Saigon, for two days of conferences assessing the war in Vietnam and maneuvers in Paris toward bringing it to an end.

The Paris sessions between

U.S. and North Vietnamese emissaries is the one factor around which the Honolulu session revolves more than any other.

In a prepared welcoming statement at Hickam Air Force Base, Johnson noted that since he and Thieu last got together in Australia in December, the formal talks had begun in Paris.

U.S. smashes unit massed for offensive

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops smashed into an enemy force Thursday near the Cambodian border and prisoners said it was part of a fresh North Vietnamese regiment that had joined with other units massed for an attack on Saigon.

It was the first solid contact in several weeks between American and North Vietnamese forces along Cambodian border infiltration routes, and bore out intelligence reports of significant troop concentrations in Tay Ninh Province, 75 miles northwest of Saigon.

Spokesmen said 34 North Vietnamese regulars were killed while American losses were four killed and 23 wounded in the five-hour battle.

Showdown over liberalism nears

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's leaders rejected Thursday Soviet bloc demands that they abandon liberalization and return to the old guard existence they cast aside six months ago.

In a television speech to the nation, Communist chief Alexander Dubcek said he and the party leadership were determined to continue the new policy though "our road will not be easy" and "we need calm and hard work."

As the Moscow-Prague confrontation thus seemed unresolved, there were these other developments:

—In London, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart suggested that the Soviet Union keep hands off Czechoslovakia. "It is not for us to order the internal affairs of Czechoslovakia," he told the House of Commons, "not for us or for anyone else except the people of Czechoslovakia."

—In Belgrade, a Yugoslav report from Prague said Soviet Communist chief Leonid I. Brezhnev will meet with Dubcek Saturday or Sunday. Yugoslav President Tito was reported to have postponed briefly a trip to Prague to stress his solidarity with the independent-minded Czechoslovaks. Sources said the Prague leaders may have asked him to defer the visit for the moment. The Yugoslav Communist party meanwhile declared its full support for Prague in a voluminous document.

—In Moscow, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin met with Czechoslovak Deputy Premier Frantisek Hamouz to discuss economic relations. The Soviet news agency Tass said. There were no details. Czechoslovakia is reported seeking to do more business with the West.

—In Prague it was announced that Soviet Marshal Ivan Yakubovskiy will return to Moscow today after supervising withdrawal of Soviet troops from Czechoslovakia. About 16,000 Soviet troops were reported still in the country after Warsaw Pact maneuvers that ended June 30. Delayed and seeming slow-paced withdrawal to their bases in Russia, East Germany and Poland stirred controversy in light of the crisis.

The Czechoslovak stance was defiant and it seemed to be splitting Europe's Communists into two deeply antagonistic groups of Prague backers and Prague opponents.

Assembly winds up furiously

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General Assembly postponed final action on several controversial pieces of legislation before starting a two-month recess early Thursday.

Although the lawmakers sent scores of bills to Gov. Shafer during a marathon windup session, the following measures were left pending:

— Sunday liquor sales on a county option basis.

— Legalized bingo for churches and non-profit groups.

— Major revision of the state's absentee voting law.

— Additional protection for consumers against fraud.

— Exonerations of teachers who staged illegal strikes.

In addition, numerous other proposals of lesser consequence will await the legislature's return in mid-September.

The Sunday liquor sales bill was returned by the House to its Liquor Control Committee for further study. The measure had been approved by the Senate last week.

Backers of the House-passed bingo bill indicated the proposal may be in for a major overhaul in the Senate. The measure was passed over after being put in position for a final vote.

The absentee voting bill was stalled on final passage when House Democrats refused to lend their votes for concurrence in Senate amendments. The consumer fraud legislation suffered the same fate.

Senate Republicans were responsible for the delay in the teacher bill, which is opposed by the governor. The measure would have allowed Pittsburgh and Scranton teachers to receive salary increases won through strikes.

Under a 1947 law, any public employee who walks off the job is ineligible for a wage increase for at least three years. Shafer has said he opposes exonerating persons who have broken the law.

The legislature, while passing over the more controversial bills, did approve several important measures, including ones dealing with firearms, drunken drivers and insurance protection for urban properties.

The Senate sent the governor a bill that would provide a mandatory additional five-to-10 year prison sentence for perpetrators of violent crimes who use guns. The vote was 36-12. Shafer also received from the House another bill that would restrict the carrying of firearms on public streets during emergencies, such as riots.

Ray flown back to U.S.

LONDON (AP) — James Earl Ray, wanted in the Memphis assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was flown out of Britain today to stand trial in the United States.

A reliable source said Ray took off from an airfield close to London shortly after midnight. The U.S. embassy confirmed that he had left Britain.

Arthur J. Hanes, the Birmingham, Ala., attorney who has taken on Ray's defense, said he planned to return to the United States later today. Hanes had battled without success for permission to accompany Ray on the journey back.

U.S. ready to return J.E. Ray

LONDON (AP) — U.S. officials stood ready Thursday night to receive James Earl Ray from British custody and fly him back to the United States to face trial on charges of assassination Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

A U.S. plane was said to be standing by at Northolt, the closest Royal Air Force base to London capable of handling jets that can cross the Atlantic.

The plane was expected to take off at night so as to land at night, probably at Memphis, Tenn., where King was shot to death April 4.

American officials kept the tightest security screen in front of Ray's transfer. They refused a request by his lawyer, Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, Ala., to accompany Ray home or even to speak to him once he is in U.S. custody in Britain.

Hanes said U.S. officials refused to give him an explanation of their refusal. But he made it clear that Ray feared U.S. officials would try to interrogate him during the seven- or eight-hour jet flight about circumstances surrounding King's assassination, including questions about any conspiracy.

"I just told him to keep his mouth shut," Hanes said. British courts Thursday cleared away the last of the formalities that have prevented Ray's transfer to the United States since his arrest in London June 8.

Following Ray's decision earlier this week to abandon his fight against extradition, a lawyer representing the director of public prosecutions went into Bow Street Magistrates Court.

He said no evidence would be offered to support British charges against Ray.

GNP still advancing

Economy shows signs of cooling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economy gave its first hint of an orderly cooling off in the year's second quarter despite the near-record and still inflationary advance in Gross National Product, the Commerce Department said Thursday.

GNP—the value of all goods and services produced in the economy—rolled up a $19.6 billion increase in the past three months, second only to the record $20.2-billion advance in the first quarter.

This boosted to $850.8 billion the annual rate of this widely used measurement of over-all economic activity.

Inflation continued to gobble up much of the advance. Of the total increase, $11.2 billion represented real growth in the second quarter while $8.4 billion was attributed to price increases.

William H. Chartener, assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs, told a news conference the inflation index used in the GNP figures has increased by about four per cent at an annual rate in each quarter over the past year.

He said no quick drop is anticipated but inflation should be running under four per cent by the end of the year.

He predicted price increases alone would add $8 billion to GNP during the current quarter and he foresaw continuing increases in real growth, but at a reduced level which he didn't estimate.

Although the increases in the first two quarters were almost identical in size, their make-up differed markedly.

Retail sales slowed to about their record $265.5-billion gain in the first quarter, while the growth of inventories—slowed early in the year because of soaring sales—moved ahead more strongly.

Chartener said he looks for a slowdown in steel and related industries later in the year following the heavy buildup of inventories in anticipation of a strike. The moderate increase of $7.7 billion in consumer spending was well below the $12-billion quarterly rise in after-tax income. It resulted in another increase in the personal savings rate.

This jumped to about 7.75 per cent of after-tax income. It had dropped to about 7 per cent in the first quarter.

Senate told Russian arms nearly matches U.S. might

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Pentagon officials have told the Senate the Soviet Union is nearing nuclear arms equality with the United States in an awesome standoff that could make all-out war suicide for both sides.

The Defense Department leaders said U.S. strategy is aimed at wiping out "essentially the entire urban population" of the Soviet Union in a nuclear war. At the same time, one Pentagon estimate of possible American casualties ranged from 40 million to 120 million.

In fact, the senators were told, the spectre of global disaster in an atomic give-and-take is so great that U.S. nuclear might no longer can be counted upon to discourage conventional flareups because the other side just isn't likely to believe it will be sued.

Secretary of the Air Force

Harold Brown and other military leaders appeared at closed hearings by the Senate preparedness subcommittee in late April and early May. A heavily censored transcript of the testimony was made public by the subcommittee Thursday.

General John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, told the senators the Soviet Union probably will draw even with the United States in the number of intercontinental ballistic missiles ICBMs by the end of this year.

McConnell disputed a House Armed Services Committee report predicting the Soviet Union will have an over-all superiority in nuclear weapons in three years. He said the House study didn't have access to all the necessary intelligence information.

McConnell said, "I think that in 1971 the Soviets will be very nearly on a parity—but not quite." He was speaking about over-all nuclear weaponry, not just ICBMs.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., voiced concern about the present U.S. policy of planning atomic attack against Soviet cities as the most effective deterrent to war. He said Soviet scientists might score a surprise breakthrough that would upset the balance of terror.

Brown said the cities have been made targets because the United States can no longer destroy enough of the growing Soviet military arsenal.

Philip Clark, the prime suspect in the fatal shooting of policeman Ross Brackett Monday in Philadelphia, attempts to cover his face Thursday in Philadelphia police headquarters after his arrest. (UPI Telephoto)

Police seize murder suspect

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Detectives seized a man charged with killing a policeman, ending one of Philadelphia's greatest manhunt Thursday. The arrest came just hours before the officer's funeral.

Philip Clark, 27, a slender Negro nicknamed "Sad Sack" offered no resistance when armed officers crashed a door at sunrise in a high-rise apartment building seven blocks south of City Hall.

He is accused of Monday's slaying of Patrolman Ross P. Brackett, 25, married and the father of a 3-year-old daughter. Brackett was shot to death—apparently with his own revolver—after struggling to arrest Clark in connection with the theft of a cash box from a trolley, police said.

Clark had been sought by the city's 7,500-man police force, and by authorities in neighboring states. His arrest came as his mother and girl friend, who led police to his hideout, stood outside the seventh-floor apartment.

Police said Clark's girl friend, Arlene Campbell, 21, was discovered trying to buy him narcotics. She was asked to help officers locate him, and after she talked with his mother, Mrs. Pearl Clark, 45, the two women led police to Clark's room.

Brackett was slain in a West Philadelphia neighborhood that is predominantly Negro, but which remains an area not generally considered racially troublesome.

Thousands of people, Negroes and whites, had filed by Brackett's casket during the week to pay their last respects.

Among them was Common Pleas Court Judge Leo Weinrott, who said an anti-police climate in Philadelphia was partially responsible for Brackett's death. "Policemen are on the defensive today," Weinrott said.

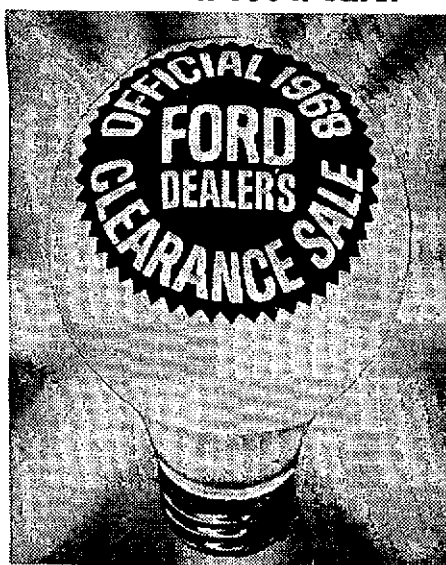

Another was Stanley Branche, head of the Black Coalition and a self-styled Negro militant.

Brackett was buried with full police department honors. Police Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo ordered all officers to wear black mourning bands across their badges in Brackett's honor.

Pike notes increased tax rolls

HARRISBURG — Pike County's five school districts realized a $9,024,500 increase in taxable real property in 1967 over the previous year, the State Tax Equalization Board reported Thursday.

Total market value is listed as $89,857,400 with assessed valuation placed at $22,181,584 and compares with a market value of $80,832,900 and assessed valuation of $20,499,583 recorded in 1966.

Changes in the 1967 market value over 1966 are restricted to properties going on or off the tax assessment rolls, since the law requires reassessment of properties only in even numbered years.

The certified market value, which is as of June 30, will be used as the basis for computation of reimbursements for the current school year, with subsidy payments to be made during the 1969-1970 school year.

This is the 1967 breakdown by school district within Pike County with market value change, market value, assessed valuation and percentage of assessed valuation following in that order:

Blooming Grove Township — up $2,750,000; $9,074,700; $1,850,403; 20.4 per cent.
Delaware Valley — up $4,181,300; $44,226,500; $12,030,544; 27.2 per cent.
Greene Township — up $472,500; $7,626,900; $1,906,368; 25.0 per cent.
Lackawaxen Township — up $680,600; $8,855,100; $2,043,704; 20.8 per cent.
Palmyra Township — up $932,100; $19,074,200; $4,348,565.

Conway play set for Newfoundland

NEWFOUNDLAND — In the unique Summer series presented by Vacationland Ministries at the Newfoundland Arts Center this month and next, perhaps one of the most unusual programs will be an original play, "I, Judas Iscariot," by Pat Conway, of Jessup.

The play will be a part of the July 21 production "The World Church in Action," currently playing to standing room only audiences at the arena theatre in Newfoundland.

Under the direction of Father Bert Akers, S.J., chairman of the Theology Department at the University of Scranton and a member of the Catholic Commission for Radio and Television who returned only this week from an assignment in Hollywood, the program is the first of two (July 21 and 28) being carried out by the University official.

Pat Conway, the son of Harry and Ann Conway, is a Jessup High School and University of Scranton 1968 graduate. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Nu, the Jesuit International Honor Society; a past member of the University Singers and the University Players; and a member of St. David's Male Choir.

The drama to be presented at the Center is an original short story adapted by Conway to the stage in the form of a one-act play. It was staged for a selected audience under the author's direction at the University.

Many of the awards last fiscal year were for the repair of heavy construction equipment.

Court sessions close

$530,300 awarded in Pike

MILFORD — A lengthy session of Pike County Court which began on June 10 was concluded on Wednesday by President Judge Arlington W. Williams and with the awarding of more than $500,000 in condemnation cases.

Twelve condemnation cases, seven of which involved Interstate Route 84, were settled during the session. In three of the cases damages were decided by the jury. In one case, a directed verdict was entered following an agreement between the contesting parties.

The other cases were settled between the parties involved with stipulation agreements having been filed in the office of the Prothonotary of Pike County in all except two of the cases.

The Pocono Record was among the news media in the area that cooperated with the court during the session by not publishing any figures or results in the condemnation cases. This action was taken because attorneys involved were apprehensive that such information might prejudice and influence persons selected for jury duty.

Results of these cases are now being published. The final figures in the two remaining cases that were settled by agreement will be released as soon as the stipulation of agreements has been filed by the parties involved.

Leonard Pearlman, Robert Sigal, and Sidney L. Krawitz vs. Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, 50.45 acres of land in Dingman Township involved in Interstate 84 condemnation, jury awarded damages of $30,000 to the plaintiff.

Burrell E. Olmsted and Verna H. Olmsted vs. Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, 92.74 acres in Milford Township involved in Interstate 84 condemnation, jury awarded $28,000 damages to the plaintiff.

Joseph and Ann Coughlin vs. Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, 636.84 acres of land in Dingman Township involved in Interstate 84 condemnation, jury awarded $225,000 to the plaintiff. The commonwealth has entered a motion for a new trial.

Moon Valley Park Inc. vs. Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, 226.88 acres of land in Milford Township involved in Interstate 84 condemnation on agreement of the parties involved prior to the close of the trial the jury made a directed verdict of $67,500 damages to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Canouse, the owners of Moon Valley.

Richard W. and Florence E. Danley vs. Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, 14.6 acres of land in Milford and Dingmans Township containing a house, barn and a garage business site involved in Interstate 84 condemnation stipulation agreement signed awarding $103,500 damages to Mr. and Mrs. Danley with a 6 percent interest rate after August 28.

Tito may throw support to liberal Czechoslovakia

PRAGUE (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia has been reported to be preparing for an immediate, dramatic visit to Prague to express support for Czechoslovakia's liberal leaders in their fight for survival against the orthodox Communists of Eastern Europe.

Reliable sources in Belgrade who disclosed Tito's plans also said that Nicolae Ceausescu, leader of Romania's Communist party and an outspoken supporter of the reform drive here, would also come to the Czechoslovak capital to stand beside the regime.

Word of the expected visits coincided with a Czechoslovak army statement that the Soviet troops who have lingered here moving out "according to schedule." The army said "all Soviet troops" part of a n original unit of 18,500 men would leave the country, but gave no date, although Saturday had been set as the deadline.

A public opinion poll published here Wednesday showed the population overwhelmingly behind party chief Alexander Dubcek and 91 per cent of those queried asking that the Russian troops withdraw as quickly as possible.

The visits were in the context of a Belgrade report that Czechoslovakia had accepted a demand by the Soviet Union and four of her East bloc allies that Dubcek explain his democratization program at a summit meeting in two weeks time.

The demand for the Communist summit was said to be contained in a yet unpublished letter sent to Prague by the hard-liners who gathered over the weekend for a meeting in Warsaw.

The orthodox parties are afraid that liberal reforms here will force them to make concessions at home. Poland and East Germany appear to be the most concerned.

Farmers helped by weather

STROUDSBURG — The second consecutive week of only scattered local showers has helped area farmers in getting field work done.

Topsoils have become dry enough to permit cultivation with many weedy fields getting attention, according to the Monroe County Extension Office and Crop Reporting Service.

During the week farmers concentrated on hay making, cultivation of row crops and in some cases harvest of wheat.

Soil moisture ratings dropped from short to mostly adequate by the end of the week. Irrigation of potatoes and vegetable crops is common now.

Second cutting alfalfa hay making is underway in some areas with most of the clover-timothy harvest completed. Quality ranged from poor to good. Dry topsoils have also slowed growth of pastures.

Much of the corn shows uneven growth with good color in evidence. Heading of oats is just about complete in most areas. The yield for corn is forecast at 75 bushels per acre, down from the record 83 bushels yield last year, but well above the five-year average yield of 60 bushels per acre. Total production is expected to total 15 per cent less than last year.

Oats are forecast to yield 50 bushels per acre compared with 45 bushels last year and an increase of one per cent in total harvest over last year.

All hay yielded 1.91 tons per acre, down slightly from 1967, with total production estimated to be down three per cent from 1967 yields.

Fruit production forecasts as of July 1 are above average crops of all fruits except apples and tart cherries. Cold and wet weather during June has made for good sizing of apples but during bloom caused poor pollination and a reduced set. Hot weather in July has caused some problems with miles.

Milk production slump continues

STROUDSBURG — The milk production slump has continued into its tenth month with some improvements during June, according to Monroe County Extension Service and Crop Reporting Service.

Poor roughage and less rigorous culling of herds are some of the causes for the low yields. Output per cow averaged 810 pounds.

The milk-feed price ratio was listed at 1.63 for June compared with 1.43 a year ago. Value of the ration fed was 3.50 for June. All wholesale milk was priced at $5.70 per hundredweight with fluid grade at $5.75.

Egg production for June was down three per cent from last year. Poultrymen had one per cent fewer layers on hand during June 1968 and many replacement pullets were put into flocks during the month after heavy cullings.

The June egg price was up from May but still at a relatively low level. The average price received by farmers for all eggs sold during June was 33 cents per dozen, three cents more than May 1968.

Price paid for complete laying feed was $82 a ton for June 1968, with an egg-feed ratio of 7.6 compared with $88 a ton a year ago and a 6.8 ratio.

29 drawing public assistance are classified as 'employable'

Record Harrisburg Bureau HARRISBURG — More than four percent of those drawing public assistance in Monroe County are classified as "employable"; that is, able to work.

This was learned Thursday in a check with the State Department of Public Welfare following its annual report of findings of relief load versus employable public assistance recipients.

The report, just completed and showing the picture as of the first of April, breaks down the Monroe County relief employables to an actual 4.6 percent—with 1.6 percent classified as non-handicapped employables and 3.0 percent classified as handicapped employables.

Numerically, this means 29 Monroe countians drawing relief are employables (which includes handicapped (19) as well as non-handicapped (10) employables).

How many of the county "employables" are actually employed?

The DPW summary shows three countians as of April 1st classified as full-time employees, while five are classified as part-time employees.

Interestingly, 20 of the county public assistance "employables" are listed as available for community work and training projects (CWT)—but none are listed as working on such CWT projects.

Here is a breakdown by age and sex of the 29 Monroe County relief recipients classified as employable: 22-44 years of age—seven men and nine women; 45 years of age and over—seven men and six women.

Q. I support my mother. Can I claim two exemptions for her since she just turned 65?

A. No. You are only entitled to one exemption for your mother when she qualifies as your dependent. Her age does not give you an extra exemption. The extra exemption for age may be taken only on a taxpayer's own return when he or his wife is 65 or over.

Q. Are wedding gifts taxable?

A. The recipient of gifts is not subject to income or gift taxes. However, the giver may be liable for gift tax if gifts to one person in a single year exceed $3,000.

Q. Is it true you could lose your tax deductions for a business trip overseas if you take a vacation at the same time?

A. Yes, there are situations where business deductions for overseas travel can be affected by the amount of time devoted to sightseeing and other non-business activities.

Under certain circumstances, the cost of transportation, including meals and lodging, to the place of the business meeting and back to the taxpayer's home will not be allowed in full as a business deduction.

Rules for handling business deductions in these circumstances are explained in Publication No. 463, "Rules for Deducting Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses." Send a post card to your district office for a free copy.

Q. When do I have to pay Social Security tax for my maid?

A. The quarterly payment for the months of April, May and June is due July 31. Use Form 942, "Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees," a self-mailer, to file and pay this tax.

This tax is due when cash wages of $50 or more are paid to a household employee during a calendar quarter.

Q. Now that the new surtax charge has been passed, how much more will be deducted and when will the new rate start?

A. The new law calls for an additional surtax of 10 per cent. This 10 per cent figure is on the amount of tax liability. In other words, if your liability last year was $1,000, before any credits for withholding, the surtax would apply to this amount.

Since the law is retroactive to April 1, 1968, the effective rate for 1968 is 7.5 per cent. In the example, the additional tax would be $75, or a total before credits of $1,075. Your employer will start withholding on the new rates, on wages paid on and after July 14, 1968.

Tobyhanna Depot distributes $1,300 for worker suggestions

TOBYHANNA — Almost $13,000 in savings will result from employee suggestions adopted at Tobyhanna Army Depot this week. The Workers received more than $1,300 in cash awards.

The largest award, $335, went to George Parsons of Edwardsville, a supply clerk in the Inventory Control Office. His idea, a new method of identifying stock adjustments on transaction registers, will save an estimated $6,700 a year.

Thomas Youngblood, Kingston, won $200 for a suggestion to revise a depot form which will eliminate certain processing steps, an idea judged to save $2,423 yearly.

Two men, Joseph Matriccino, Kalayres, and Stanley Sova, Nanticoke, teamed up to develop a new test procedure in the Radio shop, where both are employed. The suggestion rewarded each with $150.

Other suggestion winners were: Robert Stofey, Wilkes-Barre, $165; Ernest Gatto, Dunmore $82; Theodore Dominick, Moscow, $82; Stanley Galk, Dupont, $75; Stanley Marchak, Dupont, $55, and Francis Kane, Scranton, $50.

Lawyer barred for short skirts

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A mini-skirted attorney was barred from City Court Wednesday after she ignored judicial requests to lengthen her skirt.

Miss Carolyn Peck, 22, of the Onondaga Neighborhood Legal Services, previously had been requested to lower her hemline by City Judge Joseph Falco and State Supreme Court Justice Richard Aronson.

Miss Peck, wearing a skirt that considerably cleared her knees, appeared today before City Judge Parker Stone, who ordered her to report to Aronson. Until she had done so, she was not to appear in City Court, Stone said.

Police name air patrol

HARRISBURG (AP) — State Police Commissioner Frank McKetta designated the personnel Wednesday to man the first helicopters in the department's new aerial patrol program.

Federal matching funds recently were granted which will enable the department to develop a force of eight helicopters over the next five years at a cost of $2 million.

McKetta said that two of the craft are expected to be in use this fall. He named 10 members of the force to undergo special training at the Hershey State Police Academy as pilots and observer-mechanics. Those designated will report to the academy for a week of training and orientation on July 22.

Those chosen and their troop affiliation:

Pilots — Sgt. William S. Hall, Harrisburg troop; Sgt. Nicholas J. Pauley, Wyoming; Tpr. James L. Boyle, Lancaster; Tpr. John W. Neil, Geensburg; Tpr. Dominic F. Spigarello, Philadelphia, and Tpr. Francis R. Suppock, Butler.

Observer-mechanics — Tpr. Freddie W. Bendt, Turnpike Troop; Tpr. John C. Connolly, Erie; Tpr. Robert L. Eakin, Washington, and Tpr. George A. Sommerer, Reading.

Red China alerts army for possible Mao revolt

HONG KONG (AP) — Declaring that anarchy "has paralyzed and is destroying our country," a secret Chinese radio has called on Red China's army to get ready soon for a revolt against Mao Tse-tung.

The radio calls itself the "Voice of the People's Liberation Army," the official army name. It has been broadcasting nightly for some time.

It centers its fire on Mao, the party chairman; his wife, known as Chiang Ching, and Defense Minister Lin Biao, Mao's heir apparent.

One broadcast the past week asserted that "the Mao-Lin minority's seizure of power in the Communist party is the dirtiest event and the most shameful exploit in our country's history."

A growing number of China analysts in Hong Kong believe the station is transmitting from mainland China. One factor encouraging this belief is the known fact that many in the army hate Mrs. Mao. They feel that through Mao's cultural revolution—or power struggle—she has tried to undermine the army.

There were possibilities that the broadcasts might come from Chinese Nationalist agents known to be operating in south China. But analysts say Nationalist propaganda efforts never have been this effective.

"All the evidence of what has happened in the past two years, of Mao's cultural revolution has sufficiently proved that the Mao-Lin-Chiang Ching minority are deadly enemies of our people and our nation."

"Comrades, be prepared. Soon the militant call will be sounded over the whole country. All commanders and fighters: Should you be loyal to the party and the great Socialist revolution or should you help the Mao-Lin-Chiang counterrevolutionary minority to build a Mao dynasty? No. We of the PLA must not fight for the Mao-Lin Chiang minority."

Committee urged to extend train test

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Commerce subcommittee was urged Wednesday to recommend a two-year extension of the government's high speed passenger train tests — already a year behind schedule.

But Dr. C.L. Miller, one of six witnesses supporting the extension, warned that the widespread attention the three-year-old program has drawn may be rewarding "but it is also dangerous."

"It can lead to disappointment and frustration if resources available are not adequate to ensure continuous progress and... results," said Miller, a Massachusetts Institute of Technology professor.

He called for a much larger and bolder program and said the Department of Transportation is being much too modest in its appropriations requests for the program.

Under the test project, 150 miles-per-hour passenger trains will operate between Boston, New York City and Washington, D.C.

The Senate Appropriations Committee approved Tuesday a $16.2 million appropriation for the program for the fiscal year that began July 1.

But Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., warned the money would be stricken from the Transportation Department's committee-recommended $1.6 billion appropriation unless congress soon clears legislation to authorize an extension of the program.

The chairman of the Connecticut Transportation Authority told the subcommittee his state is making what he said are extraordinary efforts to preserve rail service in the state during the tests.

Frank M. Reinhold said the state is giving an estimated $7 million annually in "complete tax relief" to the ailing New Haven railroad, along with an annual cash assistance of about $3.2 million.

He said Connecticut is spending $500,000 to support the high speed demonstration tests, and has a tentative agreement to buy the trains if the tests succeed.

"We must have the results of these experiments before we proceed," he said.

Other supporters of the legislation included Rep. Don Irwin, D-Conn.; Don Bontie, executive secretary of the Railway Labor Executives Association; Rudy Beeder, an Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad official, and Anthony Haswell, executive director of the year-old National Association of Railroad Passengers.

Bidding Quiz

You have the following hand, both sides vulnerable:

♠ K J 9 4 ♥ J 9 7 2 ♦ K 8 5 4 3

1. Your partner deals and bids One Club. What would respond?

2. Your partner deals and bids One Heart, to which you respond Two Hearts. Partner then bids Three Diamonds. What would you bid now?

3. Your partner deals and bids One Heart, to which you respond Two Hearts. Partner then bids Three Clubs. What would you bid now?

4. Your partner deals and bids Three Hearts. What would you bid now?

5. Your left-hand opponent deals and bids One Heart. Your partner doubles and your right-hand opponent bids Four Hearts. What would you bid now?

1. One heart. In general, with two suits of equal length, you respond in the higher ranking one, and on this basis you could argue that the proper response is one spade. However, this rule is subject to an important exception, to wit, the case where you have a weakish hand that you intend to bid only once before dropping out of the picture.

The advantage of responding one heart is that if partner has four-card length in either major suit, you are sure to discover the fit right away (since he will bid one spade if he lacks heart support). But if you respond one spade, you might never find the heart fit if partner has four of them.

2. Four hearts. Your partner is apparently trying to find whether you have a minimum or maximum raise. His three diamond bid indicates a suit where he requires assistance, and your doubleton king fits the bill perfectly. Since your values have now been greatly increased by the diamond bid, you should happily accept the invitation to go to game by jumping to four hearts.

3. Three hearts. Here your hand drops in value and the chance of making game is materially decreased. Accordingly, you bid three hearts to tell partner that your raise was of the minimum class.

4. Four hearts. You don't raise to game because you expect partner to make ten tricks, but because you hope to stop the opponents from bidding five clubs or diamonds, which they seem likely to be able to make in view of your partner's preemptive bid. This tactic may very well succeed if the missing high-card strength is divided evenly.

5. Four spades. Since partner is marked with a singleton or void in hearts, you are very likely to make at least four spades. Of course you could double four hearts and beat it one or two tricks, but four spades is far more likely to produce a better result.

Ann Landers

Medical advice needed

Dear Ann Landers: My wife suggested I write to you because our problem is one we don't want to discuss with anyone in this city.

Last week our 16-year-old son came home from boarding school. He said he had something important to tell me. From the look on his face I knew he was distressed. My first thought was, "He's gotten some girl in trouble." Well, Ann, I wish it were true. It would have been simple compared with the real problem.

The boy confessed he is a homosexual. His mother and I are crushed. I blame myself for failing as a father. I feel guilty for not spending more time with him. My wife says this way of life was probably inflicted on him by the other boys at school. It is possible?

Our son has always been a fine student, and outstanding athlete, popular with both boys and girls. He is also very handsome, almost beautiful, which adds to the problem.

Should we send him to a co-ed high school next fall? He says he doesn't want to see a doctor because he's not sick. I assure you that his mother and I are. Please advise.

HEARTBROKEN DAD

Dear Dad: Insist that the boy see a doctor. There's a chance that he might not be a homosexual. The amount of ignorance on this subject is appalling. A co-ed high school might be a good idea. A change of scenery and companions could be helpful. Be aware, however, that homosexuality cannot be "inflicted on" a normal male so don't blame the school if it turns out that the boy is a homosexual.

There is some disagreement among the experts regarding what causes homosexuality. While the vast majority of authorities agree it is the result of a poor child-parent relationship early in the youngster's life, there are other theories which should not be totally discounted. The important thing now is to get the boy to a doctor and hope for the best.

Dear Ann Landers: If you were 21 would you marry a young fellow who has no bank account, a few small debts, a mother to look after, a very good job, lots of ambition and unlimited faith in the future?

It was reported that all recommendations would be further presented to Phillip Savage of the Pennsylvania State Planning Board.

Ziolkowski also made a motion that a representative of the Monroe County Planning and Zoning Commission as well as the county commissioners also be made a part of the committee.

It was the recommendation of the state planning board that representatives of top elected officials be named to the committee.

YFC buys E-burg building

EAST STROUDSBURG — Youth For Christ "stepped out on faith" and signed an agreement to purchase the Metropolitan Edison building at 66 South Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

The building will be open for youth activities, Saturday night meetings, Campus Club programs and Fun Nights in September.

This is a local mission challenge, geared to youth with the well rounded life. It spans the gap between teens and adults under the direction of a well qualified leader.

Youth For Christ specializes in "group dynamics" showing young people how to have exciting as well as purposeful activities. As a service to the community, YFC offers high school assemblies, teen counseling service, rehabilitation of delinquent teens and leadership training.

Local executive director Ron Samuels and a board composed of Pocono area businessmen are convinced that such a meeting place is much needed in our community and ask for your prayerful support in this home mission venture.

Roots force wading pool to close

STROUDSBURG — The wading pool at the Stroudsburg Playground was temporarily closed Thursday. According to Playground Director Sam Everitt, the pool could not be drained because of roots growing through the pipes.

Everitt closed the pool to prevent any chances of the children getting sick from contamination.

The pool will be scrubbed down and disinfected with detergents and it will be open to the public by 1 or 1:30 p.m. today.

Temple plans childrens' service

STROUDSBURG — Rabbi Henry Weinberg, spiritual leader of Temple Israel in Stroudsburg, has invited the children of the Grand St. Settlement Camp to join the congregation in the Friday night service which will begin at 8 p.m.

The camp, located at Marshalls Creek, originates from New York City under the auspices of the non-profit Grand St. settlement organization and is directed by Mr. Kalze, also from New York City.

Rabbi Weinberg will lead the liturgy of the Sabbath service and a special reading while the camp children will join the congregation in the congregational singing.

Thermometer passes 100 again

Rain may halt scorching heat

STROUDSBURG — Although the haze kept the strong rays of the sun away from the local residents on Thursday, temperatures in the area once again reached into the middle 90s and higher.

Humidity seemed to drip and ooze from just about everything in sight.

Deviating somewhat from the pattern set in recent days, the official temperature reading was closer to unofficial readings throughout the local area.

According to Bill Hagerty, official U. S. Weather Bureau Observer, the high was 96 degrees.

For those who were too depressed to bother to check their thermometers, The Record again made a survey of the area for unofficial readings.

Don's Gulf Service Station, 1319 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, recorded a high of 104 degrees, while Carl's Atlantic Service Station, 282 Prospect, East Stroudsburg, had a high reading of 100.

Today. Naturally this will come in the long awaited afternoon and evening thunder showers.

Unfortunately the rest of the forecast reads continued very warm, sunny and humid. The high is predicted to be between 86 and 92. Have you heard that somewhere before?

Dispensers of liquid refreshments, especially in air conditioned establishments, had another booming business day.

Lifeguards at local swimming areas kept their ever-watchful eyes on the vast hordes of swimmers invading their domains.

Bermuda shorts, tee shirts and mini-summer dresses were worn by shoppers in the downtown area.

Employees in air conditioned businesses received envious glances from those who are less fortunate.

None moved unless they had to.

Such was the weather picture presented in the local area.

Nudists give 'bare' facts of attending Palmerton camp

By PETE GRADY
Pocono Record Reporter

PALMERTON — When you come right down to the bare facts of nudism, it's nothing more (or less) than taking off your clothes.

But to talk to a nudist, the unadorned subject takes on more than just a nature-in-the-rare glimpse — or stare.

Thursday three nudists, two men and a girl, sat around inside the entrance gate of Sunny Rest Lodge near Palmerton and championed nudism down to the very last mole.

Helen (that's not her real name) who's married and works for a plumbing and well drilling trade publication in a large Eastern city, can't wait for the weekend and Sunny Rest Lodge so she and her husband can take off their clothes and raise the banner for "freedom of the body and mind."

Helen confessed that when she first thought seriously of nudism she was afraid she was too fat. "I'm not going," she told her husband. Helen really doesn't look that fat.

Apparently she lost her little girl shyness for she and her husband now own one of the 12 trailers in a permanent trailer park at Sunny Rest Lodge.

"The other day I took some neighbor's children to a beach back home," Helen said. "Bathing suits," she moaned, "they're so uncomfortable, and sticky."

Bill and Milton are veteran nudists. Bill's single and has been coming up to Sunny Rest Lodge for the last two years.

Milton, married, and the father of a 16-year-old girl and a 13-year-old boy, has 12 years of nudism under his belt which he wasn't wearing during the interview.

Neither Bill nor Milton wore much of anything, except for a metal cross, symbolizing peace.

Milton who sat on a towel which is standard equipment for nudists said that when all the nudists get together their mannerisms go down the drain.

"I brought a friend up here," Milton said, "and after 24 hours all he could say about Sunny Rest Lodge was 'the only description is to be here.'"

"It's a place where 500 become one family," he added.

Shirley thought that Monday was the most horrible day of the week. "That's when you have to put your clothes back on."

"Why just to go downtown here for groceries with your clothes on," Bill said, "that can ruin your whole day."

During a lull in the conversation the interviewer shot a quick glance up to the pool where only the slide or diving board was visible; he couldn't make out which one it was, the pool was too far away.

But when he saw a fat naked man climbing up the steps he turned back to a little more insight on the bare facts of life.

"When you come here you lose the awareness of the body and its sexual connotations," Helen said.

"Uh huh," the interviewer answered snacking another look up at that distant pool.

"Nudists are warm and friendly people," Helen said. "They welcome you with open arms."

"That sounds just great," the interviewer said. He was beginning to perspire. He still had his clothes on.

In a previous interview with one of the owners, Wally Rogers, who wore a towel and a mustache and bore a striking resemblance to the movie actor, Peter Sellers, Rogers said that Sunny Rest Lodge is "the largest nudist park in the world."

"Prospective members are interviewed," Rogers said, "and if they decide nudism is for them and they are acceptable to us, we will ask them to spend a day here at a ground fee charge of $5.

Daily accommodations which includes two meals is 9.30 per person, he added.

Rogers cited an intriguing statistic. "Single girls are always looking for a place to go, and the average place has five girls to one boy. Here it's three boys to one girl."

After an extremely frank, open and revealing interview with Zelfa Supple, the camp's co-owner, who still bills herself as "Queen of the Nudists," her parting remarks were, "Hope to see more of you."

Fully attired, the reporter left the camp and stopped and stared at a sign which read, "Sunny Rest Lodge" and directly below an advertisement, "House of Treats, A-Treat Premium Beverages."

Two new stores to open in S-burg

STROUDSBURG — Construction is expected to begin within 30 days on two new stores to be included in the Stroudsburg Shopping Center now housing the Big 'N' department store and the A&P market.

According to an agreement of lease filed Thursday in the Monroe County Courthouse the Thrift Drug Co., of Pittsburgh will house one of the new facilities.

A spokesman for Sybil Realty Co., Kingston, owners the land, said the Rio Dress Co. will also occupy a space in the shopping center.

Marvin Slomowitz of Sybil said Thursday night that their company will build and lease two buildings to the new tenants with construction to begin within 30 days.

He said that the drug store will be housed in a 50 by 120 foot space while the dress firm would occupy a 40 by 100 foot tract.

Estimated cost of the two buildings is in "excess of $50,000," according to Slomowitz.

He added that both stores, expected to be completed and occupied by November, would be built in the same colonial design as the A&P now on the site.

Both buildings would be adjacent to the present food store in the deal that was reported "recently completed."

He added that leases for both would be for "at least five years."

According to Slomowitz there is still room for two more stores in the complex that he believes should be fully developed.

Jose Iturbi to appear at MAMAC

CANADENSIS — Achieving the appearance of Jose Iturbi as guest artist for Saturday night's concert at Mid-Atlantic Music and Arts Center is a "feather in the cap" of the fledgling art center. The internationally renowned pianist has his choice of concert spots.

At a luncheon Wednesday with Dr. Mary Vynner, director of the piano department at MAMAC and her husband Louis Vynner, music director and conductor of the symphony orchestra, revealed insight into the appearance of Iturbi.

"His appearance will be a valuable contribution to the aims of the organization," Vynner said. "As the foremost international pianist, the students at MAMAC will have occasion to play with the top artist in the field. They are very enthusiastic."

During the interview Vynner indicated that Iturbi's sister Miss Amparo Iturbi had played in musical groups and is known to Vynner. It is by his request that Jose Iturbi accepted the bid to play Greg's Piano Concerto in A Minor in addition to a group of solo encores.

"He's coming all the way from Spain where he is making a television film of his life-story," Vynner explained.

"It is a great achievement to have him come to play with our orchestra. He is interested in young people and has expressed his interest to play a concert with young people."

Vynner pointed out that the program will not only entertain but also provide background and experience for the students which they could not possibly get anywhere else.

22 workers back at work

EAST STROUDSBURG — The 22 knitters and threaders who quit their jobs at the Redmond Finishing Co. on Tuesday will be back at their jobs this morning.

Alan Ginsberg, manager of Redmond Finishing Co., was informed of the return by a spokesman for the threaders and knitters Local Textile Union 1513.

The workers will return under existing contracts.

The dispute between the employees and Ginsberg and the ensuing walkout of the workers was over wage demands.

Our neighbors to the north had it somewhat cooler. Schaeffer's Gulf, in Mount Pocono, recorded only a 95 degree reading.

Bailey's Service Station in Echo Lake had a 103 degree reading. According to the folks up that way, there was some hope of a storm brewing.

To the west, in Brodheads-ville, the West End Service Station recorded a high of 95.

In keeping with its participation in community events, The Record had a reading of 103.

There is a note of cheer, however, from the U. S. Weather Bureau at Avoca Airport. There is a 60 per cent probability of precipitation for

Canadensis couple eyes $100,000

CANADENSIS — Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Humphrey of Canadensis will have a chance to win the $100,000 top prize in the final phase of July's New York State Lottery drawing after their name was among the first drawn Thursday for grand-tier prizes from purchase of one dollar tickets in June.

Humphrey, who has run a pharmacy in Canadensis for 29 years said he learned of the drawing early Thursday when reading a New York Newspaper and that his wife was out of town and "doesn't know a thing about this as far as I know."

"The druggist said he had been buying lottery tickets every month since they started two years ago and said 'I never thought I'd win a thing, really.'"

Grand-tier prizes will be eligible for prizes, ranging from $5,000 to $100,000 based on the outcome of a previously run horse race in the state. The ticket held by the Humphreys carries an advantageous Post Position 1 place for the drawing to be held Monday in New York City.

County seeks reports

STROUDSBURG — Four families of guests at Pleasant Valley Manor still have not responded to requests for financial information the Monroe County Commissioners were told Monday.

On July 1, the commissioners were told that 24 relatives had not responded to a series of three letters sent by Lawrence Butz, administrator at the Manor. Names of the four still remaining, it was decided, would be turned over to Solicitor Elmer Christine for whatever action is necessary.

The commissioners approved a $300 contract with the Johnson Service Co. for maintenance of the temperature control at Pleasant Valley Manor. The company would take care of heating, ventilation, and domestic hot water.

A similar contract for the Courthouse was tabled, pending the receipt of an exact figure for such maintenance.

A new vacuum cleaner will be purchased at a cost of $53.97 for the courthouse, the commissioners decided. The request was made by Courthouse Custodian Charles Shimer.

Also approved was the purchase of an air conditioner for the District Attorney's office. The request from D.A. Phil Williams had been for two, but according to the Chairman Elwood Hintze, there is no room in the budget for two.

Hintze commented on the commissioners' trip to Deer Lake, Hawk Mountain, Schuylkill County Tuesday to view damage caused by gypsy moths. He said it had been a "good trip," and commended those instrumental in arranging it.

Marty Fleckman cards 66 for two shot lead

Tigers increase lead to 7 games

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Earl Wilson pitched Detroit to a 3-1 win over the Oakland Athletics Thursday as the Tigers increased their American League lead over idle Cleveland to seven games.

Wilson, who lost two earlier decisions to Oakland this season, allowed only six hits and walked none in squaring his record at 7-7.

The Tigers also had six hits off three A's hurlers but bunched five of them off starter Lew Krausse for all their runs in the fourth and fifth innings. Krausse, now 6-8, had won four straight.

The first Detroit run rode home on a sacrifice fly by Bill Freehan following singles by Jim Northrup and Willie Horton in the fourth.

Don Wert led off the Tiger fifth with a single, moved to third on Dick McAuliffe's double and scored on Mickey Stanley's infield hit. McAuliffe then tallied the third Detroit run on Northrup's sacrifice fly.

Units takes part in first drill

WESTMINSTER, Md. (UPI)—Johnny Units, All-Pro quarterback of the Baltimore Colts, put on his uniform and worked out in scrimmage type drills Thursday for the first time this training season.

Units directed the first team offense against the first team defense in the pass defense and offense drills and other basic workouts. Rookie Jeff Beaver, and Terry Southall, a taxi squad member last year, directed the second offense against the second defense on the same field.

It was the first workout for the full Colts squad, veterans and rookies, since the start of the training season. Veterans reported Wednesday. Coach Don Shula said he was pleased at the squad's showing.

Only one stroke off course mark

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Marty Fleckman, the handsome young Texan who was a double sensation of the 1967 U. S. Open as an amateur, charged into the first round lead in the 50th PGA Championship Thursday with a brilliant four-under-par 33-33-66.

Fleckman held a two-stroke lead over bespectacled Frank Beard, who had a 33-35-68. U. S. Open champion Lee Trevino (32-37), Mason Rudolph (35-34) and Don Bies (33-36) were another stroke back to round out the five-man contingent able to break par.

By surging to within one stroke of the course record, Fleckman managed to conquer the death's row of Nos. 17 and 18 that had killed off one challenger after another in the still, steamy 92-degree heat on Pecan Valley Country Club's 7,096-yard par 35-37 layout.

The 24-year-old former national collegiate champion from the University of Houston who won the Cajun Classic last year in his first start as a pro, put a stamp of emphasis on pre-tourney talk that the game's "young lions" were out to wrest this title, too, away from the old guard.

Except Fleckman wasn't among those mentioned as a likely bidder for the $25,000 first money.

A late starter in the 168-player field, Fleckman wasted little time in making his pitch for the lead over a course which was supposed to be a giant-killer with its narrow fairways and high Bermuda grass rough.

He parred the first hole, but then birdied the next three in a row before stumbling briefly at the sixth where he bogeyed the 607-yard, par 5 monster when he three-putted from 20 feet.

He had chipped in from 25 feet for the birdie on the No. 2, sank a six-footer on the par 3 third and a seven-footer on the fourth. He then birdied the two par 3 holes on the back nine, the 12th from six feet and the 16th from four feet and rolled in a great saving 18-foot par putt on No. 14 after being in the trees and the rough.

Fleckman wasn't too accurate off the tees, hitting only eight of 14 fairways, but he had nine one-putt greens and that saved him.

The final two closing holes had ruined Beard's chances of tying for the lead and Miller Barber's hopes of grabbing an early lead with three-under-par golf when both finished bogey-bogey.

Fleckman, however, hit a 1-iron and an easy chip for a two-putt par on No. 17 and a 2-iron and a 4-iron to within two-putt par range on the finishing hole.

Fleckman, who had led the 1967 Open after the first and third rounds only to fade to an 80 in the final round, had failed to make the cut in this year's Open.

"I didn't play so well in the Open, so I stayed over until Monday to get some help from Byron Nelson and I have had a check ever since," he said.

Beard sank 15-foot birdie putts on the first, eighth and 10th greens and snaked in a breaking 18-footer on the 15th, but he bogeyed those final two holes and wound up with his 68.

Trevino, a bit less bombastic in spite of a large Mexican-American gallery boosting him on, had only one bad hole, but that was a double bogey on the 11th when a brief mental lapse hit him. He had tied three birdies in a row on the sixth, seventh and eighth holes with putts up to 10 feet.

Rudolph had birdie putts of 5, 5 and 18 feet, but two bogeys in the rough hurt his chances.

Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer were among a crowd at one-over-par 71, but there was an equally large gathering that matched par, including Dan Sikes, Charles Coody, Miller Barber, Johnny Pott, Al Geiberger, Frank Boynton and Laurie Hammer.

With Palmer and Nicklaus at 71 were Mac Hunter, George Archer, Julius Boros, Gay Brewer, Bruce Crampton and Dow Finsterwald.

Billy Casper, who like Palmer, has never won the PGA, was a co-favorite with Nicklaus for the title, but he skidded to a 74.

Defending champion Don January all but shot himself out of contention with a 78, while Don Massengale—who lost an 18-hole playoff to January last year—was at 75.

Mets buy Larry Stahl; farm Goossen

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Mets purchased three players from their Jacksonville farm team League Thursday and optioned catcher Greg Goossen to the International League club.

The players purchased by the Mets were outfielder-first baseman Larry Stahl, leading the International League with a .367 batting average and righthanded pitcher Bill Connors and Jim McAndrew. To make room on the roster, the Mets will make three squad cuts when waivers expire today on several players.

Connors, 28, has an 8-5 record with Jacksonville and a 3.00 ERA. He pitched briefly for the Mets and Chicago Cubs last year.

McAndrew, a 24-year-old product of the Mets' farm system, led the Eastern League with a 1.47 ERA last year and has a 7-3 record this season at Jacksonville. He has won five straight, striking out 10 or more in four consecutive starts during the streak.

Goossen was hitting an anemic .208, and Stahl is expected to add some power to the lineup. In the International League, he has 21 doubles, five triples, eight homers and 21 RBIs.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus made one of the most fantastic shots of his eventful career Thursday—a left-handed shot with a seven iron that carried out of some woods to the green.

"It went under the trees, over the trap and through a narrow opening," Nicklaus said. "I was the most surprised one standing there. I couldn't have done it right-handed."

The shot, which saved a par on No. 17 in the opening round of the PGA Championship, was one of three or four left-handed ones Nicklaus hits on the tour each year, he said.

"I played one at the Thunderbird and I got a birdie with one at Memphis and also at the Buick Open," Big Jack said.

"This one I'm only trying to hit," he said. "I had no idea it was going on the green. I wanted to make some sort of contact with it and get it down there close."

"I was so far back in the trees I was just trying to make a (bogey) five. The only way I could have been in the trees 'more was to be up in one.'"

He had to keep the shot lower than 20 feet to keep it under the branches while clearing the trap 100 yards away and go through an opening 20 feet wide to the green. He jokingly said it was a "decided advantage" to have been a switchhitter as a junior high school baseball player.

Nicklaus also made another significant shot, but one that is more in line with his image. He drove the creek on No. 18 with a 280-yard tee shot.

He was the only golfer reported to have tried to drive the creek, which crossed the fairway 253 yards off the tee.

Nicklaus said he had trouble getting charged up even though it is the PGA.

"How can you get inspired in this weather?" he asked, referring to the 90-degree temperatures and high humidity. "When I got over the ball I wasn't concentrating."

He said he played under extreme opposite weather conditions in the British Open last week.

"We were so blasted cold that you set a fast pace just to keep warm," the normally slow-playing Nicklaus said. "They paired me with Dave Thomas, who is one of their fastest players. I think we were paired for a reason."

"But after a few holes, Dave turned to me and asked, 'When did you turn into a greyhound?'"

The weather was in the 50s and he wore two sweaters over his golf shirt.

He would have been comfortable in a swimming suit here.

Trainer Downey Borsal, who won the 1964 Widener with Mon-go, will race John E. dePont horses at Hialeah this winter.

Miss Mann can take money lead

CINCINNATI (UPI) — With top money-winner Kathy Whitworth taking a rest from the ladies professional golf tour, Carol Mann hopes to take over the LPGA earnings lead by winning the 54-hole Buckeye Invitational Tournament here this weekend.

Miss Mann, an adopted Cincinnati, rules as the favorite in a field of 48 women for the $18,500 Buckeye tournament opening at Cloverbrook Country Club today. The 6-foot-3 blonde now lists a Cincinnati-area country club as her home club.

If Miss Mann captures the $2,775 first prize, she will boost her official tournament earnings this year to $25,700 and move ahead of Miss Whitworth, who now leads with $24,290.

Complaining of four fatigue, Miss Whitworth withdrew from this tournament.

Sandra Post, the young Canadian who won the Women's PGA Championship last month, also will skip the tourney.

But Miss Mann still faces stern competition from such shotmakers as Mickey Wright, Sandra Haynie, Clifford Ann Creed, and Susie Maxwell Berning, a recent bride and winner of the Women's Open Championship two weeks ago.

Miss Wright, the third leading money-winner this season, has the best winning percentage this year among the touring pros with four victories in 10 outings. This will be her first appearance in the Buckeye Tourney, which was inaugurated in 1966.

Miss Haynie captured the first Buckeye Tourney with a 54-hole score of 205, 11 strokes under par.

Frank Quilici, attempting to hunt, dropped a short single over first to score Uhlaender and give the Twins the lead. Gary Waslewski replaced Bell, Renick doubled to score Quilici.

HOW EXPENSIVE IS OIL HEAT?

OIL HEAT IS THE LEAST EXPENSIVE OF THE MODERN HEATING FUELS!

OIL HEAT COSTS THE HOMEOWNER ABOUT 1/4 LESS THAN GAS HEAT.

THE COMPARISON BETWEEN OIL HEAT AND ELECTRIC HEAT IS DRAMATIC! ELECTRIC HEAT CAN COST THE HOMEOWNER 3 TIMES MORE.

WHILE THESE COST DIFFERENCES MAY SEEM SMALL ON A DAY-TO-DAY BASIS, THE SAVINGS ON OIL HEAT OVER UTILITY FUELS CAN REPRESENT AS MUCH AS $5,000 IN A 10-YEAR PERIOD. THAT SAVINGS ALONE WILL OFTEN PAY OFF THE MORTGAGE ON THE HOUSE.

* FUEL COSTS MAY VARY FROM AREA TO AREA. THE COMPARISONS SHOWN REPRESENT AVERAGE COSTS.

Iraq's military ousts president

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iraq's third military coup in the last decade has supplanted President Abdel Rahman Aref's leftist government with a Revolutionary Command Council headed by Maj. Gen. Ahmed Hassan Bakr, Radio Baghdad announced.

Ordered into exile, Aref flew to London.

Cham-smoking and looking tired, he seemed to be under guard of four other men aboard the plane, an Iraqi airliner, when it made an unannounced landing at Istanbul for refueling. Turkish officials held up the plane until they could check out the situation with Aref, then cleared it to take off.

Baghdad announcers said the coup was bloodless, but later called for all first aid personnel to report to their posts. A dispatch from Tehran declared there was heavy fighting in Baghdad and other cities and clashes near Iraq's frontier with Iran.

In Washington, U.S. officials said preliminary assessments indicated no significant changes in Iraq's course. A State Department spokesman reported about 400 Americans live in Iraq. Most of them work in the oil industry.

The rebels ousted the tall, 52-year-old president and threw out his cabinet, headed by Premier Taher Yahya, as "a bunch of illiterates." Then they elected Bakr, 52, a former premier, to the presidency.

Bakr was premier in 1963, when the Baath Socialist party ruled Iraq. Though a moderate, he was dismissed when Aref's brother, the late President Abdel Salam Aref, purged all Baathists from the government.

The new president belongs to a Baathist wing bitterly opposed to the radical leftist faction of the party now ruling neighboring Syria and seeking to spread its influence throughout the Middle East. His relations with Egypt while he was premier were uneasy. That could mean a switch later, for ties between Cairo and Baghdad during the Aref regime have been close.

The ousted leaders were accused of dividing the country into feudal sections "for their personal enrichment," failing to settle the seven-year-old rebellion of Kurdish tribes in northern Iraq and pursuing "a ruthless and superficial policy on Palestine."

Aref had advocated a political settlement of the Arab-Israeli dispute. He contributed troops to the Arab campaign in Jordan, but was accused in the broadcast of sharing responsibility for the Arabs' defeat.

Aref had run Iraq since his brother, President Abdel Salem Aref, was killed by the crash of a helicopter in a sandstorm April 13, 1966. A project he tried vainly to carry out was the welding of Iraqi political factions into a single party, the Arab Socialist Union.

Senator cites abuses in AID program

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is evidence that many officials of the Agency for International Development are selling cigarettes, whisky, radios and similar commissary merchandise to the South Vietnamese, Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, said Wednesday.

Young told the Senate the operation of the AID program throughout South Vietnam is scandalous.

Young said the AID director in South Vietnam receives in excess of $44,000 a year; 28 officials receive in excess of $41,700 a year; 82 receive $35,500; 282 receive in excess of $30,000; 409 receive in excess of $24,600; and 76 receive more than $19,000 a year.

"This is outrageous," Young said.

"What justification is there," he asked, "for the AID head in Vietnam to receive almost $5,000 a year more than the Chief Justice of the United States? What possible reason can be given for paying 110 other AID officials a greater salary than that received by members of the Cabinet, Senators and Congressmen?"

In addition to base salaries, Young said, the AID officials are given a 25 per cent hardship allowance, a $3,000 maintenance allowance and fringe benefits including air-conditioned housing and medical care and all PX and commissary privileges.

"There is evidence that many sell cigarettes, whisky, radios and other PX and commissary merchandise to south Vietnamese."

USS YORKTOWN — Airman Apprentice Edward L. Bayer, United States Navy, a son of Mrs. Agnes Bayer of 533 Barry St., Stroudsburg, is serving aboard the anti-submarine warfare aircraft carrier USS Yorktown.

As a crewmember he recently visited the port of Singapore and also participated in the traditional equator crossing ceremony.

The equatorial crossing and Singapore visit capped a one month period off the coast of North Vietnam for him.

USS MYLES C. FOX — Seaman Apprentice John R. Schmidt, United States Navy, 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Schmidt of 203 Grove St., East Stroudsburg is serving aboard the destroyer USS Myles C. Fox in the Mediterranean.

The Fox, homeported at Newport, R.I., is operating as a unit with the United States Sixth Fleet.

LBJ pleas for keeping foreign aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson denounced a "frightful gambles with history" Wednesday moves to "put foreign aid in limbo for a year" or to cut deeper into his $2.9 billion request.

As the House prepared to act Thursday, Johnson issued a statement saying he could live with the $600-million reduction made in that request by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

"But with these cuts," he said, "the program has been pared to the bone."

There were some indications as the House concluded debate on the measure Tuesday and put it aside for voting on Thursday that efforts would be made to cut out another $400 million.

Johnson said he requested "the lowest foreign aid budget in our history, because of other critical needs at home and abroad. But the economy still does not satisfy some."

The aid bill has been under fire both from people who want deeper cuts in federal spending and who oppose the administration's Vietnam policy.

STROUDSBURG — Arthur E. Gussett, 20, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gussett Sr. of Stroudsburg R.D. 1, is undergoing basic training at the Army Training Command at Fort Dix, N.J.

LOS ANGELES, CALIF. — Col. Edwin H. Grumble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Grumble of Paupack, receives his second award of the United States Air Force Commendation Medal and a Certificate of Retirement during ceremonies at Los Angeles Air Force Station, Calif.

Col. Grumble, who served as a space systems staff officer prior to his retirement, was decorated for meritorious service at Headquarters, Space and Missile Systems Organization, Los Angeles.

He was cited for his outstanding accomplishments in the performance of his duties.

The colonel, a 26 year veteran, served in the European and Asian Theater of Operations during World War II. He was commissioned in 1942 through the aviation cadet program.

Col. Grumble, a graduate of Fort Atkinson (Wis.) High School, attended the University of Wisconsin and Milton (Wis.) College.

His wife, Helen, is the daughter of Mrs. Harry C. Lowe of 424 Summit St., Whitewater, Wis.

Major General J. S. Bleymaier, deputy commander of the Manned Orbiting Laboratory, made the presentation.
